④ Wall Street, the Nazis, and the Crimes of the Deep State, David A. Hughes, 2022/08/07
https://repository.lincoln.ac.uk/articles/journal\_contribution/Wall Street the Nazis and the Crimes of the Deep State/24398884

Commentators have observed the unpleasant reappearance of Nazi themes and ideas in the response to COVID-19. There is evidence to suggest that a deliberate attempt is underway to collapse liberal democracy and to replace it with a eugenics-based form of totalitarianism.

In order to make sense of this shocking phenomenon, it is necessary to revisit the support of Wall Street for National Socialism as the most ruthless means of crushing working class resistance. Following the failures of deNazification after 1945, the US national security state put in place by Wall Street recruited former Nazis and used Nazi methods (including death squads, torture, false flag terrorism, biochemical warfare, surveillance-based targeting of political opponents, and the mass killing of civilians) to crush international socialism under the pretext of a Cold War with the Soviet Union. A transnational deep state was also formed and was responsible for Operation Gladio and the Strategy of Tension in Italy. With the demise of the Soviet Union, a new enemy had to be found in order for the securitization paradigm to continue to function, and 9/11 provided it: terrorism served as the pretext for globalizing the Strategy of Tension and waging imperialist wars. As social tensions mounted between 2015 and 2017, especially in France, terrorist attacks proliferated and soldiers were put on the streets. Nevertheless, protests around the world began to assume socially progressive forms in 2018/19, prompting the shift to the new biosecurity paradigm in 2020. Although the facade of democracy must be maintained for as long as possible, the ruling class now seeks to impose a novel, technocratic form of totalitarianism to keep the global population under control.

⑤ Why do the worst people seem to rise to the top of power and influence?

<https://www.quora.com/Why-do-the-worst-people-seem-to-rise-to-the-top-of-power-and-influence>

William Pennington, B.A. in Philosophy, McGill University 5y

Friedrich Hayek, the Austrian economist and political philosopher had a theory about why terrible people always lead fascist movements. He said that the plans of a radical nationalist movement often rely on a “we” against “they” mentality. The social planning and monolithic changes needed to make society fit the ideal image of the movement often require very immoral actions. Even if the end result is a picturesque society (by their definition) the way to this end can only be achieved by transgressing many individual natural rights, particularly individual liberty. Therefore the individual who leads these movements must be one who is willing to lead the movement in this direction despite the immorality required.

Moral individuals in Germany, who may have agreed with the Doctrine of the Nazi party, would still not have been able to bring themselves to drive this change. Totalitarian, fascist, and radically nationalist movements require terrible people.

We didn't lose our critical thinking; we gave it up. The illusion of comfort, speed, and certainty. Most of us weren't brainwashed; we volunteered. We wanted to belong more than we wanted to understand. We sought safety over truth. And now we live in a world where questioning is dangerous and silence is noble. And what's most frightening? The cage has been built in public. And we have locked the door by ourselves..

⑦ Ruling Tech is still only "Divide and Rule" !!

It is necessary to expose evil facts of "Ruling High Tech" by the very minor wealthiest elites (Rockefeller, UK royal, ...). The only thing they actually fear now, just as they did in the past, is the world's people solidarity by a truth toward struggle winning against evil them.

Their diligence, devoting themselves to official duties by day and publishing activities by night, is truly remarkable. Above all, it is particularly noteworthy that even in this era, so many Ottoman officials, regardless of ethnicity or creed, were equally devoted to maintaining the empire and striving to achieve the greatest happiness for the greatest number by maintaining the Ottoman world where multiple ethnicities lived together.

② The Five Good Emperors in Roman Empire (AC96 ~ 180)

Marcus Aurelius (born April 26, 121 ce, Rome [Italy]—died March 17, 180, Vindobona [Vienna, Austria] or Sirmium, Pannonia) was a Roman emperor (161–180), best known for his Meditations on Stoic philosophy. Marcus Aurelius has symbolized for many generations in the West the Golden Age of the Roman Empire.

*The only thing worth doing in this world is to live your life with truth and justice, while still caring for liars and dishonest people..... Marcus Aurelius

The harsh Machiavelli praised the Five Good Emperors era, so also author could trust. Also the generous Romans entrusted the locals to manage their foreign territories.
